Portrait Project:

You will create two portraits with very different lighting techniques. You will then print out each photo on A3 paper and we will in class work on weaving these photos together. The portraits should show two very different sides to your personality.

Photoshop Tutorial Technique:

You will research online a Photoshop technique that you will then present to the class as a demo and you will make a piece from what you learned in the tutorial.

Photo as Sculpture:

In class I will show you many artists who “set-up” photos as sculpture. Using these images as inspiration and the lighting techniques we have explored in class you will have to shoot an object or a scene that is set up and altered so that we question if it is a sculpture or an installation.

Winter Concert Poster:

In class you will be asked to make a poster for the Winter concert and Art Show

Final Project:

The theme of your final piece will be transformation. You can approach that in terms of content or your use of materials. I really want you to explore photography alternatively. You can literally do anything. If you want to paint on a photograph or cut a photograph you can. If you want to use the projector to make a piece you can. You must write up a proposal so if you have something that I need to get for you we can figure that out ASAP.
